Dear colleagues,

It is a great honour to invite you to the 7th edition of the "Technical Textiles-Present and Future" International Symposium, TTPF 2021, which will be held online on November 12th, 2021.

The TTPF 2021 International Symposium is organized by the Department of Engineering and Design of Textile Products within the Faculty of Industrial Design and Business Management from Gheorghe Asachi Technical University of Iași, Romania.

This event will bring together international specialists from research institutes, universities, and textile companies, providing a real opportunity for exchanging the latest information and knowledge regarding the technical textiles field.
For this edition, a new topic was introduced concerning environmental and sustainability issues for the field of technical textiles, a topic which we hope will arouse the interest of all participants.

Looking forward to welcoming you online on November 12th, 2021
On behalf of the Organizing Committee,
Prof. Rodica Harpa
